

...Success In Life and Work Is Maximizing Your Real Talents!

Talent Assessment

Your success in life and in business is directly dependent on the opportunity you have to fully use your talents. Many times in a person's career they fail to find their "talent sweet spot" and as a result they do not ever achieve an element of true success. They feel a sense of "emptiness."

With the Talent Assessment Program we will be able to test and accurately measure the talents that you have. By using these valuable assessment tools, you will have an analytical and objective view of your true talents to maximize your success, both personally and professionally.

New Career Directions

The days of the single career path are now very rare. In fact, it has been indicated by various studies that the average person will have as many as eight different careers during their lifetime.

The key questions for each individual are:

- ◆ how to "re-invent themselves" for a new career, and
- ◆ what are the best career choices available in today's marketplace?

The New Career Directions program will help you in determining and making some key decisions using some of the valuable resources that we offer:

- ◆ assessment tools
- ◆ creating & evaluating options
- ◆ developing action plans
- ◆ follow-up consultation

Coaching & Development

With a realistic action plan, you are now ready to pursue your new directions.

Your coach will help you reach your specific career goals through these key objectives:

- ◆ setting specific timelines
- ◆ weighing tradeoffs
- ◆ monitoring your success with benchmarks
- ◆ providing new trend analysis

The coaching and development part of the program is the final element, which can be a turning point in your life ... in what you both need and deserve.
